

DENNIS WALSH

▲ President, Redwood Americas and Asia-Pacific

As President of Redwood Software, Dennis Walsh is responsible for North America, LATAM and South America as well as Asia Pacific operations. With more than 20 years of experience in the software and computer services industries, he has previously held executive and management positions at SiteLite Corporation, IBM®, Ross Systems, Inc. and Automatic Data Processing, Inc. (ADP). Walsh has a track record of building world-class sales and professional services organizations at high-technology companies that support both business and IT requirements. His wide range of skills combine enterprise software expertise and business strategy with technology implementation know-how.

Walsh combines his business background and years in the software and services industry with a deep understanding of automation. While at Redwood, he has successfully solved some of the industry's most challenging IT and business automation issues. For more than a decade, Walsh has helped to expand Redwood's global presence. He has worked with major corporations across the globe such as:

Apple, Amgen, Cintas, Dell, The Dow Chemical Company, Eli Lilly and Company, General Electric, Genentech, Halliburton, The Hewlett-Packard Company, Sony, Toyota, W.W. Grainger and others to deliver enterprise-wide automation to businesses in every industry, delivering measurable improvements to Redwood Software customer's businesses.