Chief of Staff

Neil Kinson currently holds the role of Redwood's Chief of Staff where he is tasked with leading a number of the company's global strategic initiatives, as well as the European business. Calling on more than 25 years' of experience building partnerships with clients to accomplish complex business and IT goals, it's a role he is fulfilling with great aplomb.

A long time before joining Redwood, Neil began his management career at Xerox where he worked for 14 years. Next he joined the EMEA leadership team at OpenText where he collaborated at the highest level with some of the largest enterprises in the region including British Telecom (BT), The British Broadcasting Company (BBC) and Barclays in the United Kingdom.

And if all of that wasn't impressive enough, Kinson has also worked closely with The European Aeronautic Defence and Space Company N.V. (EADS), Alcatel Lucent, Telefónica and the Saudi Basic Industries Corporation (SABIC) on high-profile projects.

"My goal is to help clients find the most effective and sustainable solutions that support the processes their business depends on," explains Kinson. "Over the years I have had the privilege of working with some very talented people on some serious challenges. Every project is different, but success is always based on combination of skills and perspectives—encompassing innovation and practicality."
